Singapore Academy of Law's Legal Industry Framework for Training and Education

"At its core, to be a professional is to be committed to learning. As Professor Pound wrote, '[a]n unlearned profession is a contradiction in terms' – the pursuit of knowledge and its application is at the heart of what it means to be a professional. However, it is not just the acquisition of skill that distinguishes a professional ... Rather, to be a professional is to be engaged with the performance of an art which has as its object the betterment of the human condition."

THE HONOURABLE THE CHIEF JUSTICE SUNDARESH MENON
PRESIDENT, SINGAPORE ACADEMY OF LAW

LIFTED is a map

Take control of your professional future by planning for it effectively, with LIFTED.

LIFTED currently supports the following groups:

Legal
Practitioners

Legal Support

In-house
Counsel

- Range of progression levels
- Core and specialist competencies
- Supporting learning programmes
- Multiple pathways and entry points

In different job roles in the legal industry, what knowledge, skills and attitudes do you need to excel at your work?

LIFTED helps you respond to this question by providing a framework for making decisions about what to learn, when and why, based on your particular role in the legal profession.

How can you develop such competence?

LIFTED also connects you with relevant programmes from a range of learning providers drawing from multiple sources including:

- SILE Calendar of Accredited Learning Activities
- SkillsFuture Course Directory
- Singapore Academy of Law
- Law Society of Singapore
- Singapore Corporate Counsel Association
- Higher Education Institutions

Finally, LIFTED is integrated with the national SkillsFuture initiative by being the source of the Legal Industry job roles and career progression data in the MySkillsFuture Portal so that you can decide how you want to advance your career within the wider employment ecosystem.
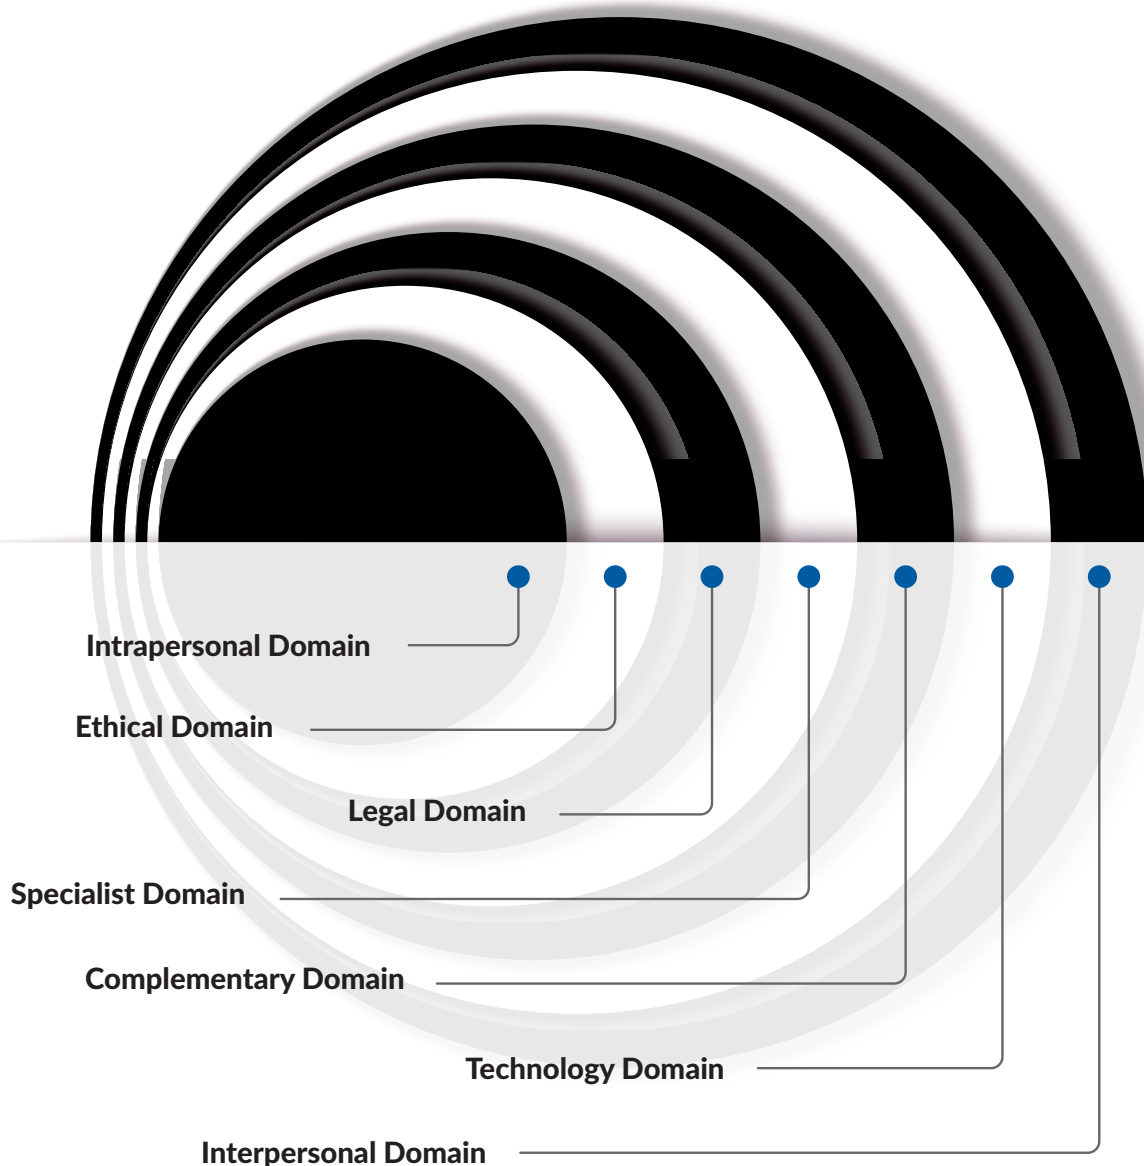

LIFTED is a way of being

Being a competent professional requires more than just clocking in the hours and accumulating CPD points. It requires your active pursuit of learning new things in a variety of ways that will develop your whole professional being.

Active Learning Attitude

"The process of learning has an entirely different quality for students in the being mode of relatedness to the world. … They have thought beforehand about the problems the lectures will be dealing with and have in mind certain questions and problems of their own. … Instead of being passive receptacles of words and ideas, they listen, they hear, and most important, they receive and respond in an active, productive way."
- Erich Fromm (2013)

Expand your learning vocabulary, broaden your understanding of relevance, and be an active participant in the continuing education conversation.

Conference

Caters for a range of learner levels to interact with experts, through multiple learning formats, to exchange viewpoints from various perspectives, and advance thought leadership, on a set of related topics or issues across multiple disciplines or subjects.

Seminar

Caters for one or more experts in a subject to speak on specific issues from their perspective and then invite views of learners on what has been shared.

Lecture

Caters for a large amount of knowledge to be transmitted from an expert to a large number of learners in a short amount of time with some opportunity to clarify understanding through question and answer at the end.

Workshop
Caters for skills-focused, highly interactive and experiential learning where the facilitator is a guide rather than expert, to support learners towards finding their own solutions to problems posed and reaching their own conclusions through reflection and critical discussion.

Roundtable

Caters for candid and fully-participative small group discussion and debate of a specific issue or topic, including sharing of best practices. Ideal when all learners are of similar knowledge and skills level.

eLearning

Caters for just-in-time or blended learning comprising videos, podcasts, discussion boards and quizzes accessed online.

"We are a profession that is comfortable with predictability, guided by precedent. It is the way we are wired to make sense of the new. Yet, in an era such as this, when change is both rapid and unpredictable, our ability to set new precedents will be what secures our future. At the individual level, the desire to learn deeply and widely will be crucial in building capabilities to practise in innovative and responsive ways. As a community, we must be guided by the desire to create spaces for the next generation of legal professionals and para-professionals to experiment, fail, learn and ultimately succeed beyond what we can imagine and wish for them."
